

to the Journal of Science and Technology. The Texas State Board of Education (TSE) has created a new website for parents and students to access the student's results and grades. The website is available at www.texas.gov.

